I am not altogether satisfied as regards the shape of bar I sent you. I have since examined the different articles which I used in order to separate the metal from the ore. I made use of these coals in which the iron must have been for certainly the ore cannot have iron in it. I have

The person who has charge of the iron works for the works is here this morning, and I have at his request detailed a number of unit workmen to assist in opening the boxes containing the doors and carrying them into the interior of the building. Mr.
Winington, who made the arrangements for the iron works, a painter, I believe, represents him and is attending to the work. There is some iron work to be done which we expect to do. It was also intended by Capt. Sherman to alter materially the small in the basement by enlarging it.
I would be glad to have his specific instructions on this point, that is to say, the precise manner in which he wishes the work done. It would be very satisfying if Capt. Sherman, or some other officer from the Bureau of Construction, acquainted with his views, could come over and direct the work. He would then be able to do it.

I have the honor to be
with much respect,
Very obediently,
Samuel W. Winington
Directed.

I have to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 2^d inst.

In reply thereto, I have to state, that it is not desirable to have any thing done towards putting up the iron doors for the vaults until the officer who has charge of the repairs of the Mint shall have visited Philadelphia.

The disbursements for these repairs will be made from the specific appropriation, under the "Regulations of the Office of Construction of buildings under the Treasury Department."

Very respectfully,

Yours, with much
respect,

Bowman arrived, and has given the necessary directions in regard to the work. In a subsequent despatch I informed you of his arrival so as to relieve you of the trouble of making any communications on the subject.

Sir
Upon your calling my attention to Silver Deposits No. 35 & 36, reported by the Treasurers of the Phil. Delphic Mint to contain gold, of the latter differing seriously in fineness from my report. I examined our record, & can find no error.

I may observe that No. 35 was a Deposit composed exclusively of 5 franc pieces; a currency in which gold has not been found within my own experience; nor, I am informed within the experience of those who have been familiar with the Philadelphia Mint assays for several years. None was obtained in this report by us.

The finding of gold in this of the succeeding report (no. 36) as well as the increased fineness in the latter,
would seem to indicate some mixing in the process of melting at the U. S. Mint.

Sir,

As the end of the current month is approaching I have to call your attention to my bill of the 13th inst asking for a warrant of process of the Treasurer of the Mint against one of the officers of the Revenue.

The Assistant Secy. of the Treasury informs me that the balance in the general fund in his office is small, I therefore suggest that the draft asked for be made payable out of the bullion fund of the Mint.

I have the honor to be
with great respect
your obedient servant.

James Ross Snowden Esqr.
Dear Sir,

I wrote you a few lines last Saturday (23) inclosing my check for $55 which I thought met safe and was satisfactory to you — I have to thank you for your prompt attention to the subject matter of my last communication & am happy to be able to report a solution of the mystery. The Treasurer who preceded me is now permanently established in San Francisco, but the one before him I have seen, & he says he is under the impression that some of the silver medals were electrotyped as an experiment, or to please the artist, or were sent out from England with others, as specimens. He could not recollect how, or which, nor is it of any consequence. So long as the main fact is established; I felt quite certain as soon as I read your letter, that this must be the case, it being impossible to have occurred at the saint. I am very sorry to have given you so much trouble but you will readily understand my position when I tell you these medals were handed over to my charge as gold medals & I knew we had never given out any such prize as an electrotyped medal — fortunately the only two gold medals awarded since 1849 (when I assumed the duties of Treasurer), were requested to be made of pure California gold & accordingly I ordered them from Mr. Peake, at dates corresponding with his Statement; the first one

at a cost of $70. the second one $40 —
on examining my books back to 1849 I find charged Augt 29th 1849 1 Gold medal $70 Sept 12 " 1 do do 40

Augt. 15. 1851. 25 Silver medals @ $5 each
March 8. 1852. 50 do do @ do do
" " 50 Bronze @ $1.50.

corresponding precisely with Mr. Peake's Statement previous to 1849 I cannot find any account whatever of medals & those used, if any, must have been from England, or made here in Boston. & charged among miscellaneous items
of expense — at that time the medals were kept
by one of the Vice Presidents as the By laws of the Society did not assign that trust to the Treasurer —

Hoping this explanation will be sufficient & satisfactory

Remain Respectfully Your Obedt Servant

the contractor should be aware of in sawing the coal, the coal should be Delivered by 1/2 part 8 in the hewing The contractor should not have less than 3 carts sawing 3 Tons at a time, for this reason, sawing it by the load at a time, would keep the pavement at all times occupied and it would be very inconvenient for the Fireman aboy being called away

Sir, I have received your letter of the 19th inst, and think with you that the proposed change should be made in the mode of paying for silver bullion. We also think the fall of August a suitable time for the change to take effect, and authorize you to issue the proper notice accordingly.

Your former letter was accidentally overlooked.

Sir,

I hoped to have heard from you before this time in answer to my letter of the 11th inst in which I urged the propriety of so modifying the purchase of silver bullion as to pay for it only in silver coin. I think it important that this change should take effect on the 1st of August next, and it is proper that some notice anterior to its going into effect should be given. I have not presented this subject to your consideration because it will suit the convenience of the Mint during the suspension of our operations whilst the extensive repairs are in progress, but because it will also subserve the public interests and prevent an unnecessary outlay of gold in purchasing silver. Our silver coinage (speaking now of all pieces less than the dollar and which is seldom coined or called for and may be regarded as no longer a coin of circulation) is placed in an entirely different position from that which it enjoyed previous to the act of March 3^d 1833. It is no longer a legal tender in payment of debts except in small amounts. Hence all that we put in that shape beyond the wants and calls of the community is a dead stock of merchandise. The gold coin which the Government has paid for the silver bullion has passed out of its possession and left in its place a currency, which if beyond the actual demands of the community is unavailable for any purpose, and in any great emergency could not be relied on when

July 17 1855

Assay Office July 16 1855

Sir

I reluctantly offer a word to explain the 'solecism', in the proposition to return silver bullion to the Assay Office "without melting", in case I should find the assay unsatisfactory. I cannot assay silver without melting, because the only accurate way to get an assay sample (except in the case of fine silver) is to take it from the metal whilst fluid in the melting pot.

I would beg leave to make a suggestion as growing out of this particular correspondence.

The last receipt of silver bullion from the Assay Office consisted of 7136 ounces, divided into eighteen numbers; evidently keeping each original deposit by itself. Now it is not my province to review the assays of original deposits made there (except as required upon special occasion), and I do

July 17th 5.

Sir,

In reply to the suggestion presented in your note of yesterday, I have to state that the de-melting of such deposits as are received at New York and transmitted here, with a view to the condensing of several deposits into a few large melts, seems to me liable to some objection. The deposits would lose in weight and be increased in fineness by such a melt. Besides, by being mingled together the coincidences, or otherwise, between the assays at the assay office and the mint would not appear, and this one of the tests to insure faithfulness, accuracy and uniformity in the operations of the said office would be entirely removed.

Very Respectfully,

The Secretary at Norfolk states that a set of receipts for carrying other coins are necessary for that office. A set suitable for use with the balance recently sent to that office by your order (weight for gold only as was promised the same) will cost 75s. If it be the desire of the Department to have them furnished will have them made by Mr. Johnson & forwarded to that office. I have the honor to be,

Dear Sir

As weight for silver accompanied the Balance which, at the request of the Treasury Department, you sent to this office a short time since.

The manufacturer writes me that he will prepare a set for this purpose under your authority. Will you have the kindness to direct him to do so, and when finished instruct him to forward for the Customs & Co's Express.

The balance is properly adjusted & seems to be entirely accurate, but on weighing coin the weight dish preponderates over the money dish from $45.45 in the $5,000, or about $1 in $1000. This has been tested by weighing $5,000 received from the Treasury at New York, while, on counting, the tale would be right. This of course arises from the abrasion of the coin. But will you please direct me how to regulate the thing & what standard I must adopt. Is the coin put up at the New York Treasury simply weighed - for example $5,000 in dollar pieces - or have they some other means of arriving at the amt.

If only weighed by what rule do they attain the result with such perfect accuracy?

Enlighten me on the subject, and I pray you to pardon me for this infliction of trouble.

I am very respectfully

Yours obd.

Sir,

I have to acknowledge your favor of the 14th inst. As regards the preponderance exhibited by the rough dish over that of the coin dish in weighing with the balance recently sent to your office, I would remark that the discrepancy undoubtedly arises from some of the coins being much worn and consequently slightly diminished in weight. When any given amount is received, the coins should first be counted and afterwards tested by the use of the standard weights. If the amount be found correct by scale the balance will conform to it, except where the coins are much worn, in which case they will be found slightly short in weight. A discrepancy of about one dollar in a thousand is occasionally exhibited here in weighing coins that have been some time in use.

I have written to the Department for permission to furnish you with a set of weights for weighing silver coin at your office.

I am, very Respectfully,

Enclosing communications from Supts of M & R of assay office
respecting allowance
made to depositors
for metal lost
in melting &
generally there on

July 16, 1855

Sir,

I have to call your attention to a point raised in a recent communication from the Superintendent of the assay office enclosing a letter from the Mells & Ripley of that office. Copies of which I herewith transmit to you. I concur with the opinion in the suggestion that the regulations in the limit herewith should be modified; and in order that the defects may be more fully apprehended by you I may remark, that by the most skillful melting of gold and silver deposits and with any precautions employed to collect all the grains belonging to each deposit which may have remained in the flux and melting pot it has been found that minute particles of the metal still adhere to the pot which it was impossible to collect from each deposit. It seemed just that some allowance should be made to the depositors for these small particles. Hence a ^{new} way adopted on the 1st of April 1853 to add ^{the amount of the} 4 parts of 10 thereby, and found herewith of an ounce to every hundred ounces of gold, and this excess was compared charged to the Mells & Ripley and thereby the weight of the deposit after melting on the

believe that this officer would begin the process from the "Ducop" into which all residues are thrown. This practice has been continued to the present time. Experience however does not confirm the propriety of its continuance. But I may in the first place premise that it seems contrary to the 15th Act of the present Mint Law. ~~which says~~ 16, which prescribes that the weight ^{of the} after melting, shall be considered the true weight of the deposit, and to Sect. 23. p. 15, which enacts that the malle and refiners shall be debited with the standard weight of gold the bullion placed in his hands.
 The allowance of four-hundredths of a thousandth is an assumed not an ascertained weight, and although the malle & refiners may obtain the first particles of metal coming from the first melt of the deposit, yet it would appear that he is debited with a ~~to~~ greater weight of metal than he actually receives. Bullion is melted under flux and the whole cast into a mould, the lighter flux solidifying on the top of the metal. It is plunged into water whilst still hot in order to loosen the adherences of the flux which is then broken off by sharp hammers as clearly as possible.
 Cables, nevertheless minute particles of the flux will still adhere and the base of metal being thus debited to the malle and Refined, he is debited with this flux as if it were gold. Besides, the metal will often contain small cavities, which when the piece is plunged into water become filled with the liquid although apparently dry. This has occasionally observed to give an excess of weight. ~~There~~

There is another cause of overcharge to the Melt & Refiner due to the so-called Indium contained in much of the California gold which is not always debited in the small assay piece, and the amount of which is generally too minute to determine its quantity. Every instruction to separate that as much as possible during the operations of parting and refining the Melt & Refiner who has been debited with it as gold increases the greater portion of it passes the gold, so that it partly accumulates in his hands, a comparatively worthless residue, or goes into the sweep which its value is entirely lost.

It will be observed that where the Melt & Refiner is debited with more bullion than he receives the depletion is unpaired and the government loses to the same extent.

From the experience gained in the Mint & others that the excess with which the Melt & Refiner is overcharged for foreign matter adhering to the melted button, and the other causes stated, will at least equal the minute residues remaining the pots and that therefore no further allowance should be made to the refiners. For these reasons I respectfully propose, with your concurrence to instruct the officers of the Mint several branches, including the assay office, that the regulations heretofore issued to them be so modified as to dispense with the ~~and~~ allowance to the refiners of four tenths of a thousandth beyond the weight of the deposit after melting;

I have the honor to be
 with great respect

5.

Sir,

I have to call your attention to a point presented in a recent communication from the Superintendent of the Assay office enclosing a letter from the Metallurgist of that office, copies of which I herewith transmit to you. I concur with these officers in the suggestion that the regulations on the point presented should be modified; and in order that the subject may be more fully apprehended by you I may remark that by the most skillful melting of gold and silver deposits, and with every precaution employed to collect all the grains belonging to each deposit which may have remained in the slag and melting pot, it had been found that minute particles still adhered to the pot which it was impossible to collect from each deposit. It seemed just that some allowance should be made to the depositor for these small particles. Hence a rule was adopted on the 1st April 1853 to add to the deposit of the day

4 tenths of a thousand, or four hundredths of an ounce to every hundred ounces of gold, and this expense was of course charged to the Melted & Refined ore and also the ^{weight} deposit after melting in the, being that this Office would regain the expense from the "Scrap" into which all residues are thrown. This practice has been continued to the present time. Experience does not however confirm the propriety of its continuance. But it may on the first place premise that it seems contrary to the 18th Sect. of the general Mint Law page 16, which provides that the weight after melting shall be considered the true weight of the bullion deposited, and, to Sect. 23, page 17, which enacts that the Melted & Refined shall be debited with the standard weight of all the bullion placed in his hands. The allowance of four tenths of a thousandth is an assumed, not an ~~ascertained~~ weight, and although the Melted & Refined does obtain the finest particles of the metal coming from the first melt of the deposits, yet it would appear that he is debited with a greater weight of metal than he actually receives. Bullion is melted under flag and the whole cast into a mould, the lighter flint, settling in the top of the metal. It is plunged into water whilst still hot in order to loosen the adhesion of the flint, which is then broken off by sharp hammer as closely as possible, so that the minute particles of the flint will still adhere, and the base of the metal being thus adherent to the flint, the flint is drawn out of the metal as if it were solid, the metal will often contain small cavities which, when the flint has been plunged into water, become filled with the liquid although apparently dry. This has been occasionally observed to give an error of weight.

There is another cause of overcharge to the Metallurgist due to the ~~ignition~~ continued amount of the California gold, which is not always detected in the small assay piece, and the amount of which is generally estimated to determine the quantity. Being instructed to separate this as much as possible during the operation of pouring and pouring the Metallurgist, who has been detected with it as gold, moves the greater portion of it from the gold, so that it partly accumulates in his hands, a comparatively small quantity, or goes into the dump where its value is entirely lost.

It will be observed that when the Metallurgist is detected with pure bullion than he perceives the deposit is unpaid and the government loses to the same extent.

From the experience gained in the Mint I believe that the agrees with which the Milled Dime is exchanged for foreign money adhering to the milled button, will at least equal the minute residue remaining in the pots and that therefore no further allowance should be made to the depositor.

For these reasons I propose, with your concurrence, to instruct the mint branches, instructing the assay office, that the regulations heretofore issued to them be so modified as to dispense with the allowance to the depositor of four-tenths of a thousandth beyond the weight of the deposit after melting.

I have the honor to be,

With great respect,

Your faithful servant,

U.S. Assay Office

Mills & Refining Department

New York July 13th 1855.

Sir,

I beg leave to call your attention to the following subjects, which I consider to be of considerable importance.

It has been the practice heretofore at this office as well as at the Mint, to allow depositors of an ounce or more of metal deposited by them, over and above the actual weight of the deposit after melting. This practice doubtless arose from the fact that a small fraction of the metal remains in the flux and Crucible after they had both been cleaned as far as possible, but other facts connected with this subject appear to have been lost sight of in making this allowance. The bars of gold & silver, and the grains obtained from the flux and Crucible, which together make up the weight after melting, even after being cleaned always contain some flux and water adhering to them or imbedded in little air holes or other cavities from which these foreign substances cannot be removed. These bars and grains also contain Iridium, which must be removed by the process of assaying now in use, and consequently the net loss and troublesome metal is left with the gold, and the depositor receives pay for it and the Melted and Refiner is charged with it, the same as for gold. The flux and water is also paid for & the depositor and charged to the Melted and Refiner in the same way, and consequently the depositor receives more than he is entitled to, and the Melted is charged with more than he actually receives. In justice to all parties therefore, I think that the dead flux and impurities in the bars after melting, will fairly compensate for the small fraction left in the flux, and consequently I hope that the above mentioned practice of allowing the depositor too of an ounce on 25 ounces and charging this to the Melted and Refiner, will be discontinued, and that the Weigh Clerk will be instructed to that effect.]

In order to accommodate the public as far as possible, it has been the practice heretofore to receive deposits of all kinds so long as they contained any gold or silver, without regard to the foreign substances some of the deposits may contain. One class of these deposits causes a great deal of trouble in refining other gold with which they are subsequently mixed, and enhance the cost of refining to a great extent. The deposits I refer to are Jewellers gold & old silver plate. These always contain tin, generally in the form of solder, which cannot be removed by the processes now in use for refining, but when treated with nitric acid is converted into an insoluble oxide which remains with the gold, causing it to be brittle and of inferior fineness. These deposits are generally small, but a small quantity of tin produces a great deal of mischief. The charges at this office for refining Bullion of good quality are probably below the actual cost, and for such deposits as Jewellers gold and Silver plate, the charges are probably less than one quarter of the cost. This together with the trouble produced by mixing such deposits with good California gold, are sufficient reasons for rejecting such deposits in future. Private Refiners in this city take such deposits at their value in gold or silver, and for gold deposits, return fine gold at $20. per oz, thus receiving about 40 ct per oz, besides the silver contained in the gold, while the Government charge is only 5 ct per oz. I hope therefore that the weigh Clerk will be instructed to reject in future all deposits of Jewellers gold, Old Silver Plate, or others containing tin or solder.

Dear Sir,

In reply to your letter of the 9th inst. I have to state that no one seems can be procured at the time, one or two specimens being only retained for the West Coast.

I believe there were no such records in 1880, although I have heard of some of them later, but they were alloted from 1883 for present. but specimens. There were some taken in 1892 and 1899 but they are very scarce at the present time. I believe that out of 1893 perhaps 10 cents, and the cost of 1899, perhaps $2.25.

The wing-caps are about behind the head on the half-out of 1899; we know of none

My dear Sir

Yours of March 14 to Dr. H. Lobdell did not reach us until after his decease. The $200 accompanying the letter is received and I will endeavor to carry out the requests of your letter as far as its expenditure of life & health are spared. At present we have declined purchasing copper coins supposing they will be of little interest in the U.S. but my impression is that I shall be able to get for you a pretty fair variety. The Assinac to which Dr. L's letter referred is in my possession but not yet purchased. I think I shall be able to get it as low as $20.

In answer to your query as to how these coins are brought to light - I must say - it is rather difficult to give or obtain any precise intelligences in reference to particular coins. For several reasons. First as a practical virtue is unknown in these parts & however plausible & commended an account of might be given we are compelled to make them suspect that it is a forgery. The people act upon the principle that there will always some advantage accrue from a lie.

Another reason is that the Turk is his gov^t claims as its own all discovered treasure whether antique or modern & hence if a man is so lucky as to stumble upon a piece he exchanges it little by little into current money, acqui-siting as few as possible with his discovery.

Again having no confidence in themselves they have none in any body else. Having no desire for knowledge except they can make something by it. to them it is incredible that one should wish to know how & where & when a coin or coins were discovered unless for some sinister end.

In general we know that occasionally jars are found, sometimes by the plowmen in the field, sometimes by the shepherd in the Mt. washed out by the rains sometimes in or under the ruins of an old building. M. de Planché found at Khoreat in his excavations two coniform covered plates of the size of 18 and stereotype plates but a little thicker one gold one silver & written on both sides. I doubt if there are 20 persons in this region who know it & I do not think he has yet published it in France but I don't know. Things printed are very apt to get back here & would make him trouble, though asking with the Sultan's permission.

I was here two years before a single Alexander was offered me for sale - About that time I sent a second copy at Meidin Returning from Bin-Belien I found that in pulling down to rebuild an old church, ^{in the process} a pot of money was found from 10 to 18 ans after that, Alexanders began to be offered 2 or 3 then 5 or 6 at a time till among us we had bought about 30. But we could never learn certainly whether they came from Jezzib.

A month since we were offered two wh the holder obtained in Singaar where he said a shepherd found a pot containing 300

It is quite certain that some months will pass between the discovery & any offer for sale. They are usually sold to silversmiths to be straddled up & we buy as much as we can & pay as high as we can afford to break up that habit and this really answers your query as to the coin market. There is no fixed price. An orientally never has any price to any thing. He is "your slave & your man" & for what you please. My way is usually to weigh the coins & then offer from once to once & a half or $\frac{2}{3}$ its value in metal. If he takes up any offer readily: Next time I offer less & so on till I fail to get them or four & then I conclude I have gone too low & raise a little. I can now generally get them and about is cheap so they can be got and usually it is about $\frac{1}{2}$ its value as silver. Gold coins I have never felt able to buy. You will infer that I am not a "head up" as to the relative value of light coins & simply because I have not been able to procure any more.

Dear Sir

I write to find if cents of the years 1793, 1815, & 1799 can be obtained at the mint. I have cents of every year they have been coined ^{up to 1828} (the first I believe ^{where} on 1793) except those above mentioned. If you have any in your possession which you can easily spare I should like to have you send them to me. If you cannot obtain them please inform me of the reasons of their ~~want~~ ^{scarcity} or give me any other information respecting them which would prove of interest to one engaged in collecting coins. I would also ask if there were any half-cent coins coined with a liberty cap behind the head like cents of the date of 1795 & 1796. If there are any please send me one or two of those also. The postage stamps enclosed will I suppose cover the expenses of sending

Sir

Upon your calling my attention to Silver Deposits nos. 35 & 36 reported by the Treasurer of the Philadelphia Mint to contain gold, of the latter differing seriously in fineness from my report. I examined our record, & can find no error.

I may observe that No. 35 was a deposit composed exclusively of 5 franc pieces; a currency in which gold has not been found within my own experience; nor, I am informed within

the experience of those who have been
familiar with the Philadelphia Mint
 assays for several years. None
was obtained in this report by us.
The finding of gold in this of the
succeeding report (no. 26) as well
as the increased fineness in the latter,
would seem to indicate some mixing
in the process of melting at the U. S. Mint.

James Ross Snowden Esqr
Dear Sir,

I wrote you a few lines last Saturday (23^d) enclosing my check for $55 which I thought sent safe and was satisfactory to you. I have to thank you for your prompt attention to the subject matter of my last communication & am happy to be able to report a solution of the mystery. The Treasurer who preceded me is now permanently established in San Francisco, but the one before him I have seen, & he says he is under the impression that some of the silver medals were electrotyped as an experiment, or to please the artist, or were sent out from England with others, as specimens. He could not recollect how, or which, nor is it of any consequence, so long as the main fact is established; I felt quite certain as soon as I read your letter, that this must be the case it being impossible to have occurred at the mint. I am very sorry to have given you so much trouble but you will readily understand my position when I tell you these medals were handed over to my charge as gold medals & I knew we had never given out any such prize as an electrotyped medal — fortunately the only two gold

the duties of Treasurer), were requested to be made of pure California gold & accordingly I ordered them from Mr. Peale, at dates corresponding with his statement; the first one
at a cost of $70. the second one $40 —
on examining my books back to 1849. I find charged Augt 29th 1849 1 Gold medal $70
Sept. 12 " 1 do do 40

Augt. 15. 1851. 25 Silver medals @ $5 each

March 8. 1852. 50 do do @ do do

" " 50 Bronze @ $1.50.

corresponding precisely with Mr. Peale's Statem^t.
Previous to 1849 I cannot find any account
whatever of medals & those used, if any, must have been from England, or made here in Boston & charged among miscellaneous items
of expense — at that time the medals were kept
by one of the Vice Presidents as the By laws
of the Society did not assign that trust to
the Treasurer —

Hoping this explanation will be Sufficient & Satisfactory

Your letter of the 1st inst was duly received. Taking into view the decrease of the business at the Mint the Department cannot consent to any increase of the expenditures - and, among the business done at N. York in the office of the Asst. Treasurer and Treasurers of the Aspy. office with that done by the Asst. Treasurer and Treasurer of the Mint at Philadelphia the done would appear to be unnecessarily large at the latter place and in the opinion of the Department five Clerks instead of seven would be sufficient for the transaction of the business.

St. Louis April 2 1852

To the President and Directors of Pacific Railroad, St. Louis, Mo.

Gentlemen

On the 1st day of June 1851, myself and my partner, Gustav Ernst, deposited at the U. S. Mint, a certain quantity of California Gold. Myself, according to Certificate of Deposit No. 2233.
The value $434. At the exact amount of Gustav's deposit I do not recollect, I came therefore with the paper, to let me know what amount of Money, Gustav Ernst has yet with you? In June 1851, Gustav and myself went together to Europe, arrived in Paris. I was taken up under the Military Law and was consequently kept in prison for 3 months and besides had to pay a man, at Substitut, in my lieu and place, to serve as a Soldier in the French Army. My partner, during this imprisonment, went to his native country Hannover in Germany, remained there about 8 or 10 days, visited me in jail and went back to or least intended to come back to America, but unfortunately died on sea, on his passage from Liverpool to New York. I am Otto Kopsch which can be proved by witnesses.

The only answer I could now like to send from you is the following, to wit:

- 1st Have you at any time been made aware of the death of East Ellsberg and by whom?
- 2^d Did you, at any time receive any papers, belonging to E. Ellsberg, and was not amongst them a certain Certificate of Deposit for $2000.
issued by Banker Barton Lee from Sacramento City, 1858. as far as I recollect?
- 3^d Please equally be kind as to inform the Editor, some of Money E. Ellsberg has with you yet?
- 4th Please not let me wait for your answer, according to my former questions specified.

Not willing to annoy you any longer I close my present, And in the hope of your favour.

I remain your most Obedient,
Francis Hanson

Re. William Delaware County Pa.

To the principal manager of the one that has charge of the affairs of the U.S. Mint at Philadelphia Pa. (as I am acquainted with any of your names) I would thus wish a few lines to you concerning some gold dust which was forwarded to your mint by the American Express Co. from Delaware this March at 1836. S. Dickinson & Langton being their agents requesting it to be coined and returned by their agents in some way you received it after your usual charges are paid. The money for my writing to you went it as then, I forwarded it on by mail Co. and in their name for which I hold their receipt for 122^{cs} 16 pwt. and so marked it on the box 82115. It has now been some days since it was sent feeling anxious to know if it reached your Mint in safety and what the prospects are for returning it I would be a thousand times obliged to you if you would write me a few lines about it. I am in hopes it will be sent back all soon in the hands of your. If there should be any thing wrong about it I then would know what to say to them about it. I want it coined and returned in that time you possibly can make it convenient to let me see what we requested you to do with it was on hand in the box along with the other test papers, a letter sent on by mail by Dickinson & Loring, I am well and hope you are so. I am anxious to hear but must let them at Dickinson & Loring, and will write to you. I hope I may not have occasion to trouble you any more about it. I have written, Washington County, Ohio.

Yours, resp. ally,

J. F. F.

A deposit was made by Mr. Dickinson on the 25th of March for B. Dickinson & Son (which mistake might have been made if the name had been written as it is on 3d line of this page.) The dep. was put to on the 27th inst & Mr. Harrison said was sent on immediately.

Mint of the United States

Philadelphia, April 6th, 1856

Sir,

I have carefully considered the points presented in your letter of the 31st ultimo, to which I have just replied on the 1st instant.

I may premise that there has been no increase in the official force employed in the Mint since the establishment of the branch Mint at San Francisco and the re-estab^lishment of the Mint at New York, unless the change in the position of Mr. Angell may be so regarded. The Mints and Refineries had an assistant for many years past, but he had not the official designation of Assistant Minter & Refiner, until his appointment as such on the 31st of December, 1853. The reasons for this change were presented by the Minter & Refiner, with my concurrence, to the department at the time stated.

There was one other change made, namely in the weigh-room, by the transfer of one of the most reliable workmen to that room to act as foreman of deposits. This was done, under your advisement, as a matter of precaution in order to avoid mistakes or frauds and to protect depositors. This employee verified the weighings of the weigh clerk and kept a separate account of the same, and makes a weekly report to me. This system is a great improvement upon the practice before in use, and, at frequent intervals, a valuable check in the ascertainment of the weight of the deposit and the kind of bullion which is received, and of great service in examining the details of the loss on the first melt. Besides these two changes, I may mention that Assistant in the Treasurers

I have to acknowledge your communication of the 2nd inst. relative to the inquiry from the Secretary Department in regard to selected addresses and assignment of names with particularity of advancing the number of the same.

In my department, one employee alone performed the duties of individual above and mentioned. But employment is substantially interchangeable. The duties of the above are so easily transferred to the Chief Clerk, but more particularly to attend to the attention of the Chief Clerk, no, to attend such business as is the proper duty of the Chief Clerk, the duties of the several clerks of the office are not so easily transferred the accounts of these clerks are all which he records in the books of the office, to keep a record of the time of the several clerks, and to report the same finally to prepare for the Chief Clerk from time to time statements of cost of operations.

Under the 2nd section of the Alaska Territory Act of 1867, it appeared that the appointment of an Assistant to the Chief Clerk is authorized with compensation of $1,000. When the compensation of the duties of above was considered, it was decided that the person who performed them as, in strictness, an Assistant Clerk, although he has had never been designated to such an office, and is paid a salary on the same basis as the Chief Clerk. It appeared to me every way proper that his duties should be officially recognized. The Assistant and Assistant Clerk have been allowed. It was decided the time reported to him there is no reason why the Chief Clerk is not equally well served.

It shall deem it a favor, therefore if you call the Chief Clerk's attention to this and find, and if you approve of it, will not object to the designation of the Chief Clerk the present Assistant in fact to the office of Assistant Clerk under the 2nd section of the Alaska Territory Act of 1867. His salary, to be based on the same basis as the other clerks, and he will be paid $1,000 per annum, the amount expended to the Chief Clerk out of that salary will be $1,000 and the compensation will be commensurate with the ordinary and efficient service which he renders to the institution.

Very respectfully yours

Sir,

The large wooden cistern in which the Chloride of Silver is precipitated, has now been in constant use since the opening of the office, and has consequently become so weakened by the acid, that I fear it will not be safe to use it longer than the time necessary to make another. It was made I believe by Mr Bird of Phil^a, and as I know of no person in this city who is competent to make another for such an important use, I have to ask that you will request the Director of the Mint to order one to be made in Philadelphia as before as soon as possible, so as to prevent accident from the one now in use. The form is oval, and the dimensions are as follows. Bottom 12 ft long, by 9 feet wide. Top 11 ft. 3 in, long, by 8 ft. 9 in wide. Height 4 ft. 10 inches. Staves 2 7/8 inches thick.

The above is outside measure.

Sir,

In order that I may reply to some points suggested by the Secretary of the Treasury, I have to request your views whether by a new distribution of the duties assigned to the Clerks Assistants and Treasurers in your branch of business, the number of the same cannot be reduced without prejudice to the proper dispatch of business.

In connection with this inquiry, please state the duties performed by each assistant, clerk and treasurer in your department, and whether the enforcement of regular official hours, such as are observed at the Department at Washington, and prescribed for the Custom houses, will enable us to reduce the number of Clerk Assistants and Treasurers.

Melting & Refining Department.
Philad. 1. April. 1866.

Dear Sir

In conformity with your request to inform you of the official force and duties of this Department, with a view to its possible reduction, I beg leave to state:

That there are two officers, a Melter & Refiner, and an Assistant Melter & Refiner, who also perform all the necessary clerical duties of the Department.

That, altho' the Refining operations, being applicable to Gold in its native state, have materially diminished, in consequence of the establishment of the Branch Mint in California, and the Assay Office in New York, — yet the alloying of gold for coinage still occupies the officers in calculations and weighings, & its melting requires a force of workmen.

Since the operations upon gold have diminished, the preparation of silver for coinage, occupies more time and force, than when the refining of gold was in its most active state.

The other official duties of this Department are: Superintendence of weighings in the transfer of bullion, when either the principal or assistant is always present to note the weights; — keeping accounts of all bullion received and delivered, and a comparison of their aggregate weights & values with the accounts of the Treasurer; — purchase of materials and

Treasurer's Office, April 8th 1856

Dear Sir,

I have to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of yesterday, in reference to inquiries propounded by the Secretary of the Treasury regarding the feasibility of a new distribution of business and a reduction of the Clerks in the Mint.

In answer to the first part of your inquiry, I would state that in my opinion the force in my department cannot be reduced without prejudice to the proper despatch of business, and injury to the interests of the government. Although the amount coined here does not reach that of a few years back, yet the routine of business is the same, and the calculations on the small deposits are the same as those on the large ones.

In regard to the present distribution of business, I am, that my chief clerk attends to the general correspondence, the settlement of the Ordinary accounts, the Copper coin, &c. Another attends to the Bullion accounts. A third makes the calculations of deposits. A fourth prepares the memorandums for the depositors of the reported value of their bullion, takes the depositors receipts on the warrants and pay book, registers the receipts &c. A fifth has charge of all payments, a sixth receives and weighs the bullion from depositors, and that passing to and from the operative officers. Besides himself, there are two employees in the weighing room; one assists in weighing & handling, the other verifies and records the weights before and after melting and reports monthly to the Director. The latter was employed, & as I understand, under directions from the Secretary to give greater security to the government and depositors.

I am not informed what the regulations are at Washington or the Custom House departments, but I can say that my clerks are regular in their attendance from 9 o'clock till 3 without exceptions.

Chief Coiners Office, 3 April 1856.

Dear Sir,

I have to acknowledge your communication of the 2nd inst. relative to the inquiry from the Treasury Department in respect to 'clerks, assistants and weighers' and in regard to the feasibility of reducing the number of the same.

In my department, one employe alone performs the duties of assistant, clerk and weigher. His employment is absolutely indispensable. The duties devolved upon him are, generally, to assist the Chief Coiner, but more particularly to attend to the weighing ^{of bullion} delivered to or by one, to record such transactions in the proper books; to deliver & receive the bullion in the various operations of coinage, and to check by weighing the correctness of these operations, all of which he records in the Books of Workings; to keep a record of the time of the several workmen, and to report the same; finally, to prepare for the Director, from time to time, statements of our operations.

Under the 3rd section of the Mint Act of January 18th 1837, it appears that the appointment of an Assistant to the Chief Coiner is authorized and contemplated by law. From the recapitulation of the duties as above enumerated, it is evident that the person who performs them is, in strictness, an Assistant Coiner, although he has never been designated to such an Office, and is paid a per diem on the Workmen's Roll. It appears to me every way proper that his true position should be officially recognized. The Assayer and Melter & Refiner have been allowed Assistants, under the law referred to, and there is no reason why the Chief Coiner is not equally entitled.

I shall deem it a favor, therefore, if you call the Secretary's attention to this subject, and (if you approve of it) ask his consent to the designation of Mr. Geo. W. Hall, the present assistant in fact, to the office of Assistant Coiner, under the 3rd. section of the Mint Act of Jan. 18, 1837, - his salary to be $1500. the same now received by the other Assistants. As he is now paid $4. a day, or $1248. per annum, the increased expense to the Mint growing out of this change will be trifling, and the compensation will be eminently due to the untiring and efficient services which he renders to the Institution.

Very respectfully yours

apparatus, and their repair; — arrangement and distribution of work; — and in general, constant watchfulness over the interests of Government and Depositors, with which the personal interests and liabilities of the officers are intimately blended.

I think it will appear from the foregoing, that the duties and responsibilities of the Melting and Refining Department, charged with all the bullion received by the Mint, during its passage through various chemical and mechanical operations, are too onerous for a single individual, while it must be evident that the interests of Government and Depositors are more effectually protected by more than one officer.

While therefore the official force of this Department could not be reduced with the present business of the Mint, without detriment to the effectiveness of the Institution, and prejudice to the public service, — I am persuaded, that under a greatly diminished business, the present organization would greatly contribute to the security of the Government and of Depositors.

Dear Sir

I am in receipt of your note of yesterday requesting my views, "whether by a new distribution of the duties assigned to the clerks, weighers, and assistants in my branch of business, the number of the same cannot be reduced without prejudice to the proper despatch of business?" In reply to which, I beg to remark, that there are not any clerks or weighers employed in my department of the public business: and that there are at present but four workmen (or assistants) so employed; which number, I do not think could be reduced without prejudice to the proper despatch of business, by any new distribution of the duties respectively assigned to them.

In connexion with this inquiry you request me to state the duties performed by each assistant. To which I have to reply, that the duties of one, are restricted to engraving; and the other three are employed in preparing the dies used in the coinage: such as, turning, hulling, tempering &c.

I do not know what difference there may be between the official hours required at the Department in Washington, and those observed in the Mint. The workmen in my department, I have reason to know, are faithful in complying with all the time regulations established in the Mint, unless prevented by sickness; and I cannot suggest any change in this respect which would enable us to reduce the number at present employed, without detriment to that branch of the public service with which I am specially charged.

It may not be improper to remark farther, that the preparation and engraving of all the dies used in the coinage of the Mint and the Branch Mints devolves upon my department; and the demand for the supply of working dies for the branch at San Francisco alone, is now very considerable; and that previous to the establishment of that branch, the demand in one year had exceeded thirteen hundred (1300) dies for the Mint and Branches; and therefore instead of being diminished, corresponding with any other operations in the coinage;

the labour in my department has materially increased; and the business requiring peculiar skill throughout - the accidental inability at this time of a single individual amongst those now employed, is sufficient to create apprehension in respect to the facilities now possessed in the department of the Engraver for the proper despatch of business for which no other provision is made.

Dear Sir

In reply to your inquiries of yesterday, I would state, that the present force of the Assay department consists of the principal Assayer, Assistant Assayer, three young men in the weighing-room, and three workmen in the laboratory. The number in each room having been materially reduced by transfer to the New York assay office, and the Branch Mint at San Francisco.

In regard ^{to} the division of labour, each one has a particular round of duties assigned him; but this is modified and changed, from time to time, to suit the exigencies of business, and ^{to increase} the capabilities of the persons employed.

Myself and assistant, besides supervising the work of the rest, take a part in the labours ourselves, as occasion may require, whether in the office or laboratory.

The business of assaying gold and Silver critically, especially where we have to prepare most or all of our materials, is composed of a large diversity of operations, and not proportioned to the amount of bullion operated upon; since a million of dollars in one form, may make as much work (in our department) as ten times that amount, in another form.

I do not believe that any better distribution of labour or time could be planned at present, or that any diminution of force would be consistent with the wants of the office.

In order that I may reply to some points presented by the Secretary of the Treasury, I have to request your views, relative to a new distribution of the duties assigned to the Clerks, Assistants and Clerks in your Bureau of Coinage, the number of the latter cannot be reduced without prejudice to the proper despatch of business.

In connexion with this inquiry, I have state the duties performed by each Assistant, Clerk & Clerks in your Department: and whether the enforcement of regular official hours, such as are observed at the Departments at Washington, and prescribed for the Customs houses, would enable us to reduce the number of Clerks, Assistants and Clerks.

of yesterday in respect to the appointment of the an official clerk to the directors.

It will readily occur to you that the want of the branch bank at San Francisco and the

Sir:

I have received your letter of the 17th instant, recommending that Mr. Thomas H. Brew, now paid on the roll as Assistant at $4 per day, may be appointed Assistant Director's Clerk, at a salary of $1500, and have had the same under consideration.

The first and most serious difficulty that recurs to me upon this subject, is that, whilst the business of the Mint, since the establishment of the Assay Office at New York, and the Branch Mint at San Francisco, has been considerably diminished, the number of employees (other than workmen), and their compensation, has been increased instead of being reduced. Upon this subject, I will be glad to have your view, and indeed I will thank you to make a careful examination into the business, and the duties assigned to, and performed by each officer, and to report whether, by a new distribution of such duties, or the enforcement of regular official hours, such as are observed in the Departments at Washington, and prescribed for the Customs House, the number of Clerks, Messengers, Assistants &c. cannot be reduced without prejudice to the proper

I have received your letter of the 7th inst.
asking for the sum of $36,975. on account of the appropriations for the US Mint for the current fiscal year, and among the items $15,000 is asked for on account of incidental & contingent expenses, - as the balance standing to the credit of this latter appropriation is but $14,669.39 the amount I have directed to be transmitted, will fall short $330.61 of your requisition.

Philadelphia, 9 April 1856

Sir,

I have to acknowledge your letter of yesterday, in which you state that the amount of $10,000, asked for contingent expenses, in my letter of the 7th instant by $500.61 the amount standing to the credit of the appropriation. As I am sure that we are entitled to draw for the sum I named, I have to request that you will cause a further appropriation to be made into this matter.

The appropriations to our use was as follows:

	Salaries	Travels	Freight	Incidental	Commission	Total
	$22,900	$ 5,000	$ 10,000	$ 60,000	$ 000	$ 97,900
We have thus far drawn as follows:
Sept 1855	1,975	10,500	1,000	10,000	16.3	23,475
Nov 1855					111.5
Sept 1856	1,975	10,500		10,000	16.3	23,475
Nov 1856					171.5
Sept 1857	1,975	10,500	5,000	10,000	16.3	27,975
Nov 1857					16.3
	2,950	27,500	5,000	20,000		55,450

And there consequently remains due as follows:

1,975 20,500 2,000 10,000 000 32,975

Total appropriation $100,000

In my letter of the 7th inst. I asked for the sum owing amounts, which you will perceive from the foregoing recapitulation of drafts we were entitled to draw, viz:

Salaries	$4,975
Drafts	12,500
Incidentals	15,000
Freight	2,500
	$36,975

The amount for cost & crins was accidentally omitted, viz: 300 so that there is in fact due to the Unit $37,275.

Your letter of yesterday states that the draft advised by you is for but Difference $430.62

In view of the above explanations, I have now to request that you will issue your requisition for the above amount, in favor of the Treasurer of the Unit, viz:

For incidentals - still due -	$330.00
Cost & crins	300.00
	$630.00

I have the honor to be

Very respectfully,
 Hon. Jas. Guthrie,
 Sec. of Treasury.
 James Ross Snowden,
 Sec. of Unit.

In my letter of the 7th inst I asked for the following amounts, which you have paid for from the Treasury for the 9 April, 1866. I am entitled to draw on.

Sir,

I have to acknowledge your letter of yesterday, in which you state that the amount of $10,000, asked for contingent expenses, in my letter of the 7th exceeds by $330.61 the amount standing to the credit of the appropriation.
As I am sure that we are entitled to draw for the sum I named, I have to request that you will cause a further examination to be made into this matter.

The appropriation to our use was as follows:

Salaries	Wages	Fraight	Incidentals	Postages	Total
$27,900	$50,000	$10,000	$60,000	$300	$148,200

We have thus far drawn as follows:

Sept 1860 to Feb 1861	$6,975	$12,500	$2,500	15,000	36,975
Sept 1861 to Feb 1862	6,975	12,500		15,000	34,475
Sept 1862 to Feb 1863	6,975	12,500	5,000	15,000	39,475
	$20,925	$37,500	$7,500	$45,000	$110,925

And there consequently remains due as follows

6,975	12,500	2,500	15,000	300	37,275
Total appropriation					$148,200

In my letter of the 7th inst. I asked for the following amounts, which you will see from the foregoing recapitulation of drafts we were entitled to draw, viz:

Salaries	$6,975
Notes	12,500
Incidentals	15,000
Freight	2,500	$36,975

The amount for gold & coins was accidentally omitted, viz:

301

So that there is in fact due to the Mint $37,275

Your letter of yesterday states that the draft ordered by you is for but

36,644.39

Difference

$630.61

In view of the above explanations, I have now to request that you will issue your requisition for the above amount, in favor of the Treasurer of the Mint, viz:

Sir,

In reply to your letter of the 9th inst. I have to state that the cash of your requisition, which was received with your letter of the 7th inst. exceeding the appropriation for the contingencies of the U.S. Mint $330.60, originated thus.

The amount paid by the Department on the 5th Feb. last to Curtis Perry & Ward, for weights furnished for the Branch Mint at San Francisco, Cal., the appropriation for the contingencies of that branch having been exhausted. $435. —

From which deduct the unexpended balance, at the credit of your mint for contingencies, at the close of the last fiscal year 104.39 $330.60

There is an unexpended balance of $200 to the credit of the appropriation, "For supplying new boilers to the engines, lengthening chimneys & for other alterations & improvements in the U.S. Mint Philadelphia" and I have consequently directed a Warrant to issue for this sum in favor of the Treasurer of the U.S. Mint, together with the sum of 300$ as asked for by you, from the appropriation, "For expenses

Mint of the United States.

Philadelphia, 15 April 1856

Sir,

I have to acknowledge your communication of the 10th inst., in reference to the requisition in favor of the Treasurer of the Mint, and regret that the state of facts presented by you is so inconsistent with that which appears on the Books of the Mint, that it becomes necessary to continue the correspondence on the subject.

You state that there is an unexpended balance for contingencies of the Mint, at the close of the last fiscal year of $104.39; and, on the appropriation for supplying new boilers 13 of $200.

According to our Books, it appears that our appropriation for the last fiscal year was as follows:

$24,900	$72,000	$300	$11,750	$56,000	$171,950
to which add the appropriation to supply deficiencies $3,000			$37,000	$20,000

Total appropriation $211,950

From the above appropriation we have received the following amounts, on Treasury drafts and warrants, thus numbered, viz.

Aug. 16, 1854	Draft No. 8365	Leant 3207	—	$ 38,225.
Nov. 1	"	8917	"	3805
				38,225
" 21	"	9018	"	3890
				18,750.
Jan. 5 1855	"	9244	"	4108
				38,225.
Mar. 19,	"	9644	"	4479
				18,000.
May 8	"	9950	"	4768
				19,000
June 29	"	127	"	4952
				41,525.
				Total — $211,950

so that, it would appear, no balance could properly stand to our credit at the close of the past fiscal year.

With regard to the balance to our credit on the appropriation for supplying new rollers &c, it appears from our books that the whole amount thereof ($20,600.) was received by us, viz

1850 June 22	Draft No. 7515 on Co. 2774	—	$7000.
	(in part)
Nov. 28 (in part of)	No. 8837	"	3658 7,000.
Dec. 24	"	No. 8425	" 3761
			4,600.
			Total — $20,600

So that neither on this appropriation could any balance appear properly to stand to our credit.

With regard to the payment of $435. to Curtis, Perry & Ward for weights furnished to the San Francisco Mint, by diverting for that purpose part of the Contingent Appropriation for this Mint, I respectfully suggest to the Department that we can very ill afford to spare even so small a sum from the means provided for our support for the remainder of the present fiscal year. But, if the temporary advance of the amount from the Mint be deemed necessary, it would be more satisfactory that it should not be deducted from our appropriation in Washington, but that the whole of the latter should be charged to us, and that the bills of C. P. & W. be forwarded to us, and credit claimed in our accounts for their payment. At a future day the amount of these bills could be refunded to us from the contingent fund of the Branch Mint.

Extract from a letter addressed to the Commissioner of Indian Affairs by Francis Huebckmann, Supt. of Indian Affairs at St Paul Minnesota dated 11 April 1856.

"Lions and half denies should be furnished in bags of one hundred dollars; and all bags should be sealed officially and the amount marked on them, at the mint, and at other places where the facilities for weighing coins are at hand. The coins could be put up in this way, I presume, with very little additional trouble.

At the last Menomonee payment, I had two kegs of silver. I had had previously no time to open the kegs & arrange the silver, neither kegs nor bags were sealed, & if the amount was incorrect, it was my loss. I found two bags with $2,000 in half denials, & since I could not very well take back any of them after they had been opened & a part paid out, I had to hire several men to make dollar piles to be handed over to the Indians, with some gold. Since I receive nothing for disbursing funds, I presume it is not asking too much, that they should be in shape convenient to be turned over to the agents, or to be paid out."

Treasury Department
April 12. 1856.

I have received your letter of the 11th instant, calling to my attention, in connection with the regulations, prescribing monthly accounts, the following clause in the Second section of the Mint Act of 1837, to wit: "And (the Treasurer) shall present quarter yearly to the Treasury Department of the United States, according to such forms as shall be prescribed by that Department, an account of the receipts and disbursements of the Mint for the purpose of being audited and settled."

I was not unaware of this provision, and other similar provisions, in relation to other descriptions of accounts, embraced in the Regulations, but the 2^d section of the Act of 31 January, 1828, authorizes the Secretaries of any of the Departments to require such returns, (often than quarterly), which the public interest may require.

The Act of 1837 subjects the accounts to such forms, as the Department may prescribe, and as three months accounts combined, will make a quarterly account, I am, of opinion, it will thereby be satisfied

Dear Sir

I herewith respectfully report that the number of hands engaged in my Dept & the Deposit Room are:

	Hands	Foremen
Silver melting Room	7	1
Gold melting Room	5
Parting Room	5	1
Deposit melting Room	3	2
Sweep Room	3
Watchmen & Weigher	3
	<hr/> 26	<hr/> 4

Total number = 30.

Altho' extremely inconvenient for want of a Hoisting machine, we have refined nearly $2,000,000 worth of gold during the past month, & converted it into Ingots. The usual amount of silver has been melted during the month, averaging 16 melts or $35,000 per day.

I regret to report that 7 men were absent on the day after election without permission, 5 of them from the silver room, by which a whole day's work was lost.

In consequence of the urgency for Gold refining, the inconvenience of procuring supplies of materials, and the small number of hands, 5, in the parting room,

I was obliged to call on the Chief Coiner to loan me three hands, which he kindly did, enabled us to accomplish the work in a given time, by the aid of a few hours over-work. I regret to report that one of those hands, Mr. Yearly, was absent one day last week without permission, & has been absent all this week since Monday. I have no doubt he will be here tomorrow, it being pay-day. He was of scarcely any use to me when he was present, & I learn that his services could be dispensed with in the C. Coiner's Dept. I shall have no further need of these borrowed hands.

Sir:

I return herewith your ordinary expenses as current for the month of April 1856 and request that the Commission to change the salaries of officers & clerks for that month may be supplied as contemplated by the General Instructions of the Department of 17th March last.

The rule adopted by the accounting officer in computing the salaries payable monthly, is, as the number of days in the quarter, is to the quarter yearly salary so is the number of days in the month to the amount due as salary of that month of said quarter, avoiding the introduction into the account of fractions less than a cent. By this system each person received the exact amount accrued.

The salary of the Director for April at $3000	is	$ 282.46

Dear Sir

I have made an investigation or examination of the errors in your printed Report, assisted by Mr. Griffiths, by comparing the copy with the Printer's Report ~~therein~~ and found that all the errors except one were typographical; and that one is on page 42 which says - "The three gold men, struck under the resolution of Congress of July 26/77, in honor of the taking of Stony Point from the British was of silver, and awarded to Colonel Fleming, for his conduct during that engagement."

The word gold I presume was in the copy and of course was not an error of the Printer. Some 3 or 4 of them were of sufficient illegibility to mislead the Printer but about 20 of them were clear and unmistakable errors of the Printer. I have now given you the facts and if you desire the Doct to be reprinted with the errors corrected I would suggest that you request the Secy of the Senate either direct or through me to have it done. If the Printers cavil about correcting the error found in the copy, it will ^{be} ~~an~~ very little labour to erase the word gold in the printed copies. I don't know that they will. The Secy will, I have no doubt, do the best he can for you.

On page 41. the word "duci" was entirely omitted.
The word "offices" instead of office in the 3^d Page is so palpable that every body will know it is typographical. but if the Printers are disposed to be technical a compromise may be made between that error of theirs and the ~~erratum~~ the copy-right by letting the word offices pass provided they will tear out the word gold. I now have reference to the fact of their being able to collect ^{the} copies of the errata sheet and availing themselves of that portion preceding the description of the medals where all the other errors occur.

Yours sincerely

Dear Sir:

I have received your favor of the 3th inst.

All things considered, I would prefer that the report should be re-printed, and yet I have some reluctance in asking that it should be done, at a loss, by the Senate of the Senate.

I make the following suggestion with a view to relieve the Subject from embarrassment.

If the report was presented to the House a motion might be made there to print say 1000 copies, 500 of which to be for the use of the Senators. In case such a resolution was adopted, a corrected copy sh^d be sent by the Clerk of the House. If this suggestion cannot be carried into effect, then I think I must request the report to be reprinted by the printer for the Senate.

The errors you speak of as being in the copy - as, for example, the word gold which should be struck out - I hope will be corrected. I am much in need of the paper - being frequently asked for information on the sub-

Gentlemen,

Upon a further consideration of the proposition to send you one of the rolls of the Training Department to the ground, I have concluded that the expense attending the transmission of the roll from Waterbury will be too great for the advantage to be derived, and your offer to send us on trial one of your cast steel rolls, will not be effective since the sale of a roll of that description in connection with our own of shelled iron would in a short time be destructive of the value of the shelled iron roll. I am compelled, therefore, to decline your obliging offer of the use of one of your rolls of cast steel.

James R. Snowden Esq
Director of Mint of the United States

Dear Sir

Yours of the 8th inst is received.
In answer I would say that I think you are mistaken in thinking that the chilled iron roll would be injured by working it with one of our steel rolls as they never come in contact when in use. Also in the amount of cost of transportation from the Mint to our place, I think you are mistaken.

I would say that we will pay all expenses over five dollars on each pair of rolls from the Mint to Watubing, or ten dollars to and from. We are very anxious to regrind a pair of your rolls and trust you will at least send us the old pair which were shown me to be reground as we are confident that we have the facilities for grinding rolls more expeditiously and perfect than any other parties in this country.

We do not wish you think that would urge you to take our steel rolls to the disadvantage of the Department, but I will make one more proposition. viz. We will send you the hardened steel rolls which we now have finished, within five days from the time we get an order from you to that effect, and you may put them to service and pay us the sum of twelve hundred and fifty dollars for them, on the first of December next, if the rolls prove satisfactory. We make this proposition, as the rolls are of no particular use to us, and that we feel so confident of your satisfaction in the future

Sir,

Your instructions of the 9th inst., respecting the exchange of iridium with Mr. John W. Gasson of this city, is received. Before making the exchange proposed by Mr. Gasson of the iridium now in our hands, I respectfully ask your instructions on two points.

1. To what extent is our iridium to be sifted before delivery to Mr. Gasson? Mr. G. states, and with justice, that he ought not to be required to receive any iridium as fine as that which he delivers to us, otherwise his own iridium might be again returned to him.

2. What method shall be adopted for protecting the Assay Office from having sand, or other material, delivered in combination with iridium?

I have asked these questions, not be-even our Melton Melford might not readily meet the difficulties suggested, but because it is desirable that our practice should conform to yours.

WARMING, DRAUGHT and VENTILATION, a trio, sanctioned by Nature, indispensable to Life, Health and Action, and in every way replete with universal importance.

Some years of study, labor, expense and proving have been given by the subscriber to simplify and perfect his system for warming, draft and ventilation, and its introduction and use the past year, in many places, (but chiefly in Philadelphia and Boston) has met with all the approbation he could wish. The following is a brief description of his improvements, all of which are patented in the United States, and part of them in England.

A Draught and Ventilating Chimney, which, in factories, dwellings and buildings of every description, secures the following advantages;—a perfect proof against fire, self-cleaning and self-preservation, a constant, powerful, regulated draught, so that a stack 40 feet high has more draught than those usually built 100 ft. high or more; a saving in fuel, at least 1-5 part; a means of taking warmth and ventilation into and out of rooms; a saving of part of the heat that is usually lost in the atmosphere, and the construction of one flue to answer in every story of a building, for every room adjacent to it.

A Trio Ventilator, or a ventilator with three powers of action which can be made of any size, in any form, to suit the architecture of any building, and may be plain or ornamental; this secures constant ventilation for any edifice, without admitting snow or rain; it cools smokey chimneys, and is certain to give them draught.

A Ship and Car Siphon Ventilator, to throw abundance of fresh air, and distribute it in a ship or car, and draw out the foul air, without admitting any snow or rain, and but one hole to be made in the roof or deck.

And last, but not least, a Tubular Furnace, or Heater, this may be of any size, and portable or fixed; buildings with it are warmed in a superior manner; it admits no red or injurious heat, but takes the fresh atmospheric air rapid, direct and warmed into the rooms, making a house feel like a pleasant June day, and contributing largely to promote health, comfort and cheerfulness. No gas or smoke escapes, and no furnace can be safer as to fire; it is highly approved in churches; it is durable, simple, easily managed, not liable to get disordered, can be cleared without making dust, and is not clogged and obstructed by coal clinkerings; it saves in fuel, and if properly attended, (but little attention is needed) is a fuel saver.

These inventions are all simple, but effectual. Architects, artisans, builders, and all interested are respectfully requested to examine them. References good, and sufficient given. For sale by

Sir:

I have received your letter both of date the 10th inst. & the 11th in reference to the propriety of a notification of the setting to rest of charges on deposits, I shall certainly write you to that effect.

In reply to the demand, relative to the deposit of evidence to the Director of War Office, I have to suggest in answer to your first point, that the evidence, after having been put in by the Medical & Surgical, should be kept through a fine sieve, say of fine wire gauze, in order to remove the dust and fragments, finer than the fine points.

In regard to the office for delivery of impurities administered with the evidence, it will only be necessary to refer to make the date when, in the opinion of the Medical & Surgical, the material offered in exchange appears more impure than it should be. By reason of the great specific gravity of iron a small percentage of impurity will appear to be large to the eye, and other ingredients admit of being readily tested, by melting and for steel, by magnetism, and by nitric or by auric acid, or by other metals.
